Automatic report generation and dispatch without need for any type of intervention on the part of dealer staff.

With QBI, there is no longer the need for dealer staff to invest part of productive time in creating reports.

As they are automatic, there is no possibility of manipulation or distortions. Managers receive the reports every morning via electronic mail in PDF format.

Early each morning, they will have a real picture of the situation of the department/dealer in order to take the required decisions. Grouping of reports by Management Groups.

Automatic filing of reports and notification of any possible variations.
